

THE MONTROSE

Commander Kendall of Steamer Confident That He Is.

MISS LENEVE IS WITH HIM.

First Suspected Identity of Couple Two Hours After Leaving Antwerp.

If Suspicion Correct, Couple Will Be Arrested at Quebec and Deported.

Montreal, July 29.—The Montreal Star prints the following message which it states it received this morning from Kendall of the Montrose: "To the Editor of the Montreal Star: Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve, I am confident, are on board. He is still showing his mustache growth and he is growing a beard. Dr. Crippen has no suspicion that his identity is suspected. The other passengers also are ignorant of his identity. Miss Leneve refrains from talking. The pair have no baggage. They cannot be parted and are very reticent. Dr. Crippen has stated that he has traveled much. He is the very sleepiest at night. "I first suspected the identity of the couple two hours after leaving Antwerp when I got the first clew. Dr. Crippen says with regard to his companion who is disguised as a boy, that he is taking him to California. They spent much time together in their rooms. Ordinarily they are bright and cheerful but at times both show signs of decided worry. Dr. Crippen is booked as a merchant. The woman, disguised as a boy, is booked as a student. "This is the first account given to my newspaper. (Signed) "KENDALL, Commander."

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR THEIR DEPORTATION

Quebec, July 29.—If Dr. Crippen is found aboard the steamer Montrose his deportation will proceed forthwith. Arrangements to that end have been completed here, as the local authorities have been instructed to place the vessel, about whose arrival the greatest interest centers, some 500 miles east of Father Point. He is expected to take on a pilot here this morning.

MONTROSE PASSES THROUGH STRAIT OF BELLE ISLE

Father Point, Quebec, July 29.—The Quebec Pacific steamer Montrose, carrying among her passengers two persons believed by Capt. Kendall to be Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and his typist, Ethel Clara Leneve, steamed through the strait of Belle Isle this morning. This places the vessel, about whose arrival the greatest interest centers, some 500 miles east of Father Point. He is expected to take on a pilot here this morning.

Early today a 22-mile wide swept away the fog that had covered the broad mouth of the St. Lawrence river since last evening, and the Montrose was not experience delay unless the weather predictions for the next 48 hours fail.

The White Star liner Laurentic, aboard which is Chief Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard, already had entered the St. Lawrence and under favorable conditions should pass this point between 3 o'clock and 6 o'clock this afternoon. At 3 a.m. today she was 165 miles east of here. "The purpose of Scotland Yard has been accomplished in that Inspector Dew, in the early stages of the case, has outstripped the suspects and he will be in a position to make his attempt at identification when the ship reaches Montreal," said John Robinson, of the Montreal press, who said that the provincial police understand that Dew will land here and wait for the Montrose. He may board the Montrose and continue to Quebec. It is believed that his plans have been worked out with the minutest detail and that there can be no hitch.

WILL ARREST CRIPPEN.

Chief McCarthy of the Quebec provincial police will make the arrest of Dr. Crippen if he should prove to be on board the Montrose. The chief reason for this is that the Montrose has been made between Scotland Yard and the Dominion government whereby Inspector Dew will be permitted to land the guarantee regulations and the Quebec officials are prepared to cooperate with the Scotland Yard men in whatever course the latter may adopt.

The Allan line steamer Sardinian which passed early today, helped materially in the early stages of the investigation. It was this vessel that picked up the strange wireless messages and relayed to the European coast the word that two persons believed to be Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve were aboard the Montrose. The plans of the police are based, of course, on the assumption that Crippen and his companion have been absolutely established from the police standpoint. Nevertheless the frequent wireless messages which have been received since the Montrose got into touch with this side of the Atlantic tend to confirm the belief that Capt. Kendall is correct in the matter of identification.

These messages are in varying degrees of positiveness, some making it almost certain that Crippen is aboard the steamer, others reiterating the fact that the suspected parties are aboard. This fact has not been definitely established that no actual arrests have been made thus far.

DEW KNOWS CRIPPEN.

It was Dew who interviewed Crippen in London, and he knows the man well. It was Dew also to whom Scotland Yard gave Crippen's promise was given that he would not leave London until the end of his actress wife, Belle Elmore, was cleared up.

FORNER'S JURY'S VERDICT IN RAWN CASE

Finds He Came to His Death From Bullet From His Own Revolver Fired by His Own Hand.

Chicago, July 29.—The coroner's jury impaneled to inquire into the death of Ira G. Rawn, late president of the Monon railroad, returned an open verdict at 3 o'clock this morning, but found that he died from a shot received from his own weapon by his own hand.

The verdict is as follows: "We, the jurors, sworn on oath to inquire into the death of Ira G. Rawn at his home in Winnetka, Ill., July 26, find that he came to his death at 1:20 o'clock on the morning of July 26 from shock and hemorrhage caused by a bullet from his own revolver fired by his own hand, but whether this was accidental or with suicidal intent this jury cannot determine, except that the location of the wound and the type of revolver render the accident theory less probable."

The verdict was so worded as to show Mr. Rawn was believed by the jurors to have been responsible for his own death, but the question of suicide or accident was left to the jury. The family and the insurance companies. It took several hours' deliberation to reach a finding. One of the chief points involved in the long discussion was how to report the document in which Rawn's family of any legal rights the members have under the $100,000 of accident insurance policies left by him.

Two of the six jurors held out for a long time for a verdict of suicide, two others held to the accident theory. The verdict was a compromise between these divergent views.

Coroner Hoffman was much disappointed that he had been unable to produce witnesses who might clear up the alleged connection of Rawn with the Illinois Central railroad when Rawn was vice president of that road. Representatives of the railroad declined to testify and put the refusal on the ground that to give information would imperil pending litigation.

RUPTURE BETWEEN SPAIN AND THE VATICAN

One Seems Imminent—Don Jaime, Carlist Pretender, Thinks Day Not Far Distant for Followers to Rally.

Madrid, July 29.—Ominous reports are received following the publication of the news that a rupture between the Spanish government and the vatican is imminent.

At San Sebastian, Don Jaime, the pretender, has issued a manifesto in which he says he will lead the Carlists in the battle which he intimates may be coming soon.

It is expected that Premier Canalejas will ask King Alfonso to set the stamp of his approval on the course that the premier has adopted.

THE VATICAN HAS DECLARED THAT THE negotiations looking to a revision of the concordat cannot be continued until the imperial decree permitting non-Catholic societies to display the insignia of public worship has been withdrawn. Canalejas has responded that he cannot cancel the program which the government has announced.

In some quarters it is believed that the holy see counts in the fall of the government in this country. However, it is said to have had the assurance of the king's support at the time he determined on his plan for religious reforms. The general situation is complicated by the unrest among the miners in the Catalan provinces and the occasional clashes between the Catholic and non-Catholic elements throughout the country.

Mundo, discussing the threatened break between the Spanish government and the vatican, says: "The holy see has no reason to feel offended. It is a house of deliberation. A rupture which will precipitate the opening of a rapid and energetic anti-clerical campaign."

DON JAIME'S MANIFESTO.

San Sebastian, Spain, July 29.—Don Jaime of Bourbon, the Carlist pretender, to the Spanish throne, issued a manifesto today to the Carlists in parliament, calling them to rally to his cause. He said he was the pope and the church, and the church, and declaring: "I think the day is not far distant when my followers must rally to our flag. I will lead the battle."

EXPLOSION TERRIFIES CHICAGO FAMILIES

Chicago, July 29.—An explosion which was heard for miles occurred last night at Twenty-first and Canal streets, partly wrecking the fronts of the plant of the Louis Hutt Box company, breaking hundreds of windows in the neighborhood, and causing terror to scores of families. Peter Wilhelm, a watchman employed at the Hutt plant, narrowly escaped losing his life.

A confetti of shrapnel crossed the street from the building. It was found, had been blown into a dozen pieces and this gave rise to the belief that the explosion was due to a bomb placed on the cover. Recently the Cosmopolitan Electric company has been having trouble with its linemen, it is said, and persons in the neighborhood expressed the belief that a bomb had been set off to damage the wires of the electric company.

Ernest J. Magerstadt, city collector, who is president of the Louis Hutt company, was one of those who attributed the damage to a bomb. The damage amounts to about $10,000.

keen activity of Inspector Dew, as he has been sharply criticized by the press and public in London and by some members of parliament for not arresting Crippen at the time suspicion was first strongly directed against him.

With the determination today that to have on board Dr. Hawley Crippen and Ethel Clara Leneve, will not be boarded by officers of the law probably this morning when she will before Sunday morning on a river pilot, immediately the interest among the assembled crowd of detectives, reporters, photographers and villagers, shifted to a lively contest between the Dominion authorities and the provincial police, both jealous of the honor of making the arrest.

Detective Charles Gauvreau is here and shows a letter from A. E. Simpson, chief commissioner of the Dominion police authorizing him to take Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve.

Women are aiding the men in fire-fighting on Pine creek. Men are dropping at their work, exhausted and the wives of the homesteaders are doing what they can in checking the flames.

BOY SAYS SHOT HIMSELF. PHYSICIANS SAY HE DIDN'T

Yonkers, N. Y., July 29.—Dying of a bullet wound in St. John's hospital, George Pelham, 16, who had been shot, stoutly insisted that the injury which brought him there was self-inflicted. After a careful examination, the hospital physicians announced, however, that the course of the bullet made it impossible that the boy could have shot himself.

Several of the playmates were closely questioned and the story was gotten from them. He had been shot, they said, by girl friend, Mildred Baxter, 7 years old, and rather than get her into trouble, as he thought, he had determined to take the blame upon himself.

Several of the children left alone for the afternoon had decided to play soldier, and George appointed himself captain. The others armed themselves with toy rifles and cap pistols, but Mildred carried no weapon, so George went up stairs and got his father's revolver for her.

"It's all right," he said, "I'm loaded."

But when the command to fire was given, there was a flash and an explosion, and the little captain fell with a real bullet in his breast.

New York, July 29.—Bobbie Quinlan, 14 years old, stood trembling before Judge Robert Gray in the children's court in the Hudson county courthouse in Jersey City yesterday, charged with the theft of two lead sinkers. His eyes were swollen and red from weeping for his little companions had told him he would be sent away for a long term and would have to break stones. His fears, however, went skyward when Judge Gray, after a hurried examination, charged the boy with the theft of a small shop just opposite the courthouse, where fishing tackle is sold.

"I want you to give this boy," said the judge, "the best fishing outfit you have in this establishment. Charge it to me."

The robbers did not touch the mail pouches and packages, and after robbing the women, immediately fled to the mountains. The stage driver believes the robbers were Mexicans."

INCREASING FREIGHT RATES WILL BE FOUGHT

Important Meeting Held in Chicago Which Appoints Committee to Lay Case Before Commission.

Chicago, July 29.—An important step in the organization of a powerful force to battle with the railroad interests over the matter of increasing freight rates was taken yesterday at a meeting of the national industrial committee of 11 appointed at the big rate congress in Chicago in May. Twenty-three men, representing 15 cities and nearly every large industrial interest in the north Mississippi valley were present.

It was stated at the close of an all-day session that it was the most harmonious gathering ever held on the subject and that the divisions were broad and extensive the result was perfect unanimity.

The following committee was appointed to lay the case before the interstate commerce commission: F. C. Montgomery, chairman, Chicago; E. J. McVann, Omaha; J. C. Lincoln, Omaha; E. F. Williamson, Cincinnati; H. G. Johnson, Chicago; W. P. Trickett, Minneapolis; H. C. Wilson, Kansas City.

The sentiment was expressed by the speakers that there should be no attempt made to deprive the railroads of anything that it is found they are entitled to, but that an effort should be made to prove that an increase in rates in all lines is not justified.

Senator Beveridge called on the last night at Oyster Bay, Col. Roosevelt said, "and again this morning. I did not know he was coming. I shall make my Indiana speech in Indianapolis."

Senator Beveridge told the newspaper men that he had just run in from Indiana for a few hours and was going back right away. He declined to talk of the head and the chief of the port. William G. Stanton of Gayonne, N. J., a brother of Speaker Philip A. Stanton of the assembly of California, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in that state, called on Col. Roosevelt was for Hiram Johnson, another insurgent candidate, and that Gifford Pinchot had gone west in Mr. Johnson's interest. Col. Roosevelt made the following statement in the matter.

J. H. Jaylord, of Omaha, a passenger on Oregon Short Line train No. 6 east-bound, was beaten and robbed by a Pullman porter on the train between the station of Miles and Tieska in western Idaho yesterday, the negro porter securing between $50 and $100, and then jumping from the train and making his escape. The porter attacked Mr. Jaylord of the head and bruising his right arm. Jaylord told the Pullman conductor of the attack made on him by the porter. He said he had made one shot, but the negro had made his escape. The news of the holdup was wired into headquarters and General Superintendent E. C. Mearns at once sent a special train out after the negro, and it is expected he will be captured at once. Jaylord lost the contents of his suitcase, which contained $100, but later said his loss was $50. Dr. J. E. Vanderpool, of Colorado Springs, a physician attending to the train, attended to Mr. Jaylord's injuries.

SOLDIERS' QUICK WORK IN SCALING HIGH WALL

Tacoma, Wash., July 29.—Company I of the Twenty-fifth infantry in command of Second Lieut. G. T. Lawraen, last night approached closely the fast-growing time for the army wall scaling contest by sending 45 of its men and their equipment over the 10-foot obstacle, having them run 50 yards beyond, fall prone and crawl under the wall, and then return. The record for this event is said to be 38 seconds.

The attendance reached 27,000. The program's climax came when Company F of the First United States Cavalry, directed a substantial wooden bridge across an imaginary stream, drove its wagons and marched a company across the structure, defended it against an imaginary attack and then destroyed it before the astonished eyes of the spectators. When the smoke cleared away the bridge was only a shapeless mass of splintered timbers.

EASTERNERS AT COLORADO SPRINGS OBJECT TO NOISE

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 29.—The esthetic tastes of the members of the fashionable eastern colony, who are sojourning here, have been really jarred by the siren whistles and choo-choo of the mogul locomotives which haul trains up the heavy grades, and have set up a mighty wail for silence.

They propose to have the noise stopped by having the engines be shattered and are preparing a campaign which will carry the issue to the offices of the Gould and Hill interests if the nuisance is not abated.

The increase to South America 2 per cent, and to Africa 9 per cent, while to Europe the decline was about 1 per cent and to Asia and Oceania a little more than 1 per cent.

Detailed figures show the value of 1910 exports to South America to be $314 million dollars as compared with $244 million in 1909; to Europe, $854 million dollars in 1910, as compared with $694 million in 1909; to Africa $184 million as compared with $174 million in 1909; to Europe $1,136 million in 1909; to Asia and Oceania $114 million in 1910 against $111 million in the preceding year.

KANSAS BOYS HAVE BAD EXPERIENCE IN DENVER

Denver, July 29.—After being arrested three times within an hour, S. and R. Hosier, brothers from Murdock, Kan., were not well pleased with their first visit to Denver, yesterday, and resolved to eliminate this place from any future interludes. The boys were on their way to Steamboat Springs, soon after leaving the Union depot they were accosted by a policeman who looked with suspicion upon the hand grips each was carrying. After a search the officer decided they were not safe-blowers, as he suspected, and let them go.

A few blocks further on the act was repeated by a plainclothes man. A third time another policeman stopped the boys and searched the grips. By this time their experience were becoming serious and the brothers resolved to leave town at once, never to return.

RETIREMENT OF JUSTICE WM.H. MOODY

Will Formally Announce It Before Expiration of Act Passed in His Behalf by Last Congress.

Magnolia, Mass., July 29.—Associate Justice William H. Moody, of the United States supreme court has definitely stated that he will announce his retirement from the bench prior to the expiration of the act passed in his behalf by the last Congress. This act expires the middle of November.

In order that the president might be relieved of any embarrassment due to conflicting reports of Justice Moody's intention, he said, the jurist some time ago informed Mr. Taft of his purpose to quit the bench. The president has twice been at Magnolia to see Justice Moody this summer, and on both occasions urged him to take all the time he desired in making up his mind. Justice Moody replied that his decision was irrevocable.

Justice Moody's health is improving, but he feels he will not be strong enough to assume the arduous duties of the coming term which is to be taken up with most serious questions. He will retire in the hope that a complete rest for a while, devoid of all worries as to his future status, may restore him to full strength.

The president now faces the responsibility of appointing two associate justices of the supreme court and designating a chief justice.

Advices from Beverly are that the president has not changed his attitude with respect to the chief justiceship. Gov. Hughes still appears to have the field practically to himself.

CONSTITUTIONAL CRISIS IN ENGLAND

Conferees of Two Dominant Parties Trying to Compose Differences Have Succeeded in Bridging Gulfs.

London, July 29.—The conferees of the two dominant parties who are trying to compose the constitutional differences of the house of lords and the house of commons already have succeeded in bridging several gulfs and a statement made by Premier Asquith in the lower chamber this afternoon indicates that the outlook for a compromise is more hopeful but little of an optimistic character is likely to be heard regarding the negotiations until parliament reconvenes Nov. 15.

Mr. Asquith after stating that the conferees in the course of 12 meetings had traversed the field of controversy carefully, said:

"The result is that our discussions made such progress—although we have not so far reached an agreement—as to render it, in the opinion of all of us, not only desirable but necessary that they should continue. In fact, I may go further. We would think it wrong at this stage to break them off."

The premier added that if further deliberations showed no prospects of an agreement that could be announced in parliament at the present session the conference would be closed.

SWALLOWED HIS MONEY. POLICE PUMPED IT OUT

Chicago, July 29.—Declaring that the police would never get any of his money, Frank Cries last night, swallowed three dimes while riding in a patrol wagon to a hospital. It was all he had.

On arriving at the hospital the officers forgot for the moment that Cries had been suffering from a broken leg and called for Dr. Schaubel and a stomach pump. Much to his disgust, the heroic remedy was applied to Cries and soon there were three dimes on the operating table and the police got possession of them after all.

Before submitted to arrest Cries fired several shots at Patrolman William M. Smith at Spaulding and Pierce streets, and was chased through the streets for several blocks, all of the time leading a Shetland pony which, it is alleged, he had taken from A. Erickson. It was while trying to escape that Cries tripped and broke his leg.

COL-BLOODED MURDER

Leonard Piro, Italian Bartender, Shot Down Dead in His Saloon.

Mafia or the Black Hand?

Police Working on a Clue Picked Up At Helper, Utah, Where Man Worked.

With the mystery of the Mafia and the Black Hand societies, and with the sureness of their vengeance, Leonard Piro, an Italian bartender employed at the saloon of James Tedesco, Fourth West and First South streets, was shot and instantly killed at 1:20 o'clock this morning. The murder, coldblooded and premeditated, was carried out in the saloon, was participated in by two men and witnessed by a negro, George Fagan.

At noon today the police, after a half day's investigation and awaiting advice from Helper, Utah, were still baffled in the clue to the murderers or the motive of the murder.

Fagon and Piro, the murdered man, were the only occupants of the saloon at the time of the tragedy. Piro was standing behind the bar while Fagon was idly playing with the balls upon a pool table. Suddenly a colored man heard a short cry, and as he turned saw the two men swinging doors of the entrance to the barroom drawn back by a masked man while another man stepped through. The latter, leveling a revolver at the bartender, ordered the negro to get behind the bar and the negro ran and gave the alarm to the police. Patrolmen Wickie and Griffiths were the first to reach the saloon, and finding the man lying in the blood upon the floor telephoned to headquarters.

The murderer, assisted by his accomplice in the opening of the door had aimed accurately, the single bullet fired striking Piro directly between the eyes.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

The murder of Piro is shrouded in mystery as yet. Comparatively little is known of him in Salt Lake. He was married at Helper in November of last year, and came to Salt Lake April last, when he began working for Mr. Tedesco. Quiet and unassuming he, so far as his employers and acquaintances here know, had or made no enemies.

The police, after investigation today, held two at the Helper, Utah, and what is considered the more likely, that he was the victim of the "Black Hand," and the second based on a supposition that the alleged threat of a man had been made.

To the police Mrs. Piro, the bride of the murdered man said that but recently one Joe Grambone, a boarder at her mother's house in Helper had in a moment of anger at being turned away because of his actions, fired a shot at the mother and had threatened to come to Salt Lake and kill Piro and then steal the daughter. On this statement the police are endeavoring to locate Grambone, if he proves an alibi last night the theory that he was implicated would be exploded.

The main theory of the police, however, is fastened to that of the indication of the Black Hand. An Italian, whose name was not given, told the police this morning that the evidence of the shooting pointed to the fact of revenge on the part of the Black Hand or the old Mafia.

"It is certain that the Black Hand had something to do with this," the Italian said. "It is their work. The murderer is the witness and the way to go about that thing. I would think that at one time Piro belonged to the society and had left it. He probably didn't do what they wanted him to do, and they got him. The police hold to this view because of the manner of the murder. Piro, as far as can be learned, had no enemy nor was he involved in any trouble. The men, both named, had entered the saloon, and one of the men holding back the swinging door permitted the other to enter and fire the shot. That Piro must have been under the fear of an attack was evident in the fact that beside his body was found his own revolver, but though blood spattered unred. The position of the revolver indicated that he must have drawn the weapon and fired, but was not quick enough to use it. No attempt was made to rob the saloon and the murderers evidently fled immediately after the shot that killed Piro."

Piro's body is lying at O'Donnell's mortuary awaiting the disposition of the remains.
